Cuban Insurgents Begin Destruction Of The Americans' Property Today.

REBEL FORCES ARE BEING DRILLED

Uncle Sam Is Ready For Any Emergency That May Arise--Naval And Military Are In Posi- tion For Conflict.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cienfuegos, Sept. 13.—Reports from the interior are to the effect that the rebels are seizing American property at Manzanillo, in the Santa Clara province. This, it is thought, may possibly hasten the interference of the United States in the interests of peace between the two factions.

Captured Train

The bridge near Las Lajas was destroyed yesterday and a train load of government troops and supplies captured by the insurgents. The station was burned and all the property which might be utilized by the railroad was destroyed. The insurgent bands appear to be increasing in number and boldness in this vicinity.

Leads a Charge

Havana, Sept. 13.—Word has been received here of a fierce engagement between government troops and insurgents near Ranchuelo, in Santa Clara province. Captain Nog, in command of the government troops, personally led a machine gun charge. He had two hundred and twenty men and the dash was made against a superior force of the enemy. The insurgents were driven from their position and three killed and seven captured. Other wounded escaped.

Is Stronger

The rebellion looms up stronger today than ever. All the smaller towns in the Santa Clara provinces appear to be absolutely in the control of the insurgents.

Becoming Bold

The insurgents are swarming in and about Santiago de la Vega and are being organized into regiments. The city is located thirteen miles south of the city and a severe contest is expected hourly between government and insurgent troops.

Uncle Sam Ready

Washington, Sept. 13.—It is known that every step preparatory to taking an active interest in the Cuban revolution has been done by both the President and the war department. Under certain conditions, according to the provision of the Platt amendment, the United States would have the right to interfere in the present Cuban trouble.

Vessels in Shape

It is known that the naval vessels on the Atlantic coast have been carefully looked over with an idea as to the efficiency of them in case of need. It is safe to say that Americans' property in and about Cuba will be protected by force if necessary. Transports are coming home from the Philippines by way of the Suez canal and they can be used if necessary.

DECLARES LEPROSY IS NOT CONTAGIOUS

American Consul, Who Has Made Life Time Study of Diseases, Makes Startling Statements.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—After a life time study of leprosy, Eugene H. Plummer, the American consul at Maracaibo, Venezuela, has decided that the dreaded malady is not contagious but is hereditary to a degree not reached in any other disease. He has made an exhaustive report to the state department. The report indicates that leprosy is curable, but there is little hope for those in Latin American lepro colonies where nutritious food and expensive drugs are rarely provided. Plummer further declares small pox is more contagious.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—Cyrus Davis, the defeated candidate for Governor at the recent election, said today: "The election returns will be thoroughly investigated and it is likely that the investigation may lead to the ballots themselves if need be." This is taken to mean that the republican victory, which elected Cobb governor, is doubted as a genuine one and that the democrats will contest both the state ticket and seats in the legislature that is to elect a successor to Senator Frye.

LAYER OF FIRST ATLANTIC CABLE

Captain Henry Augustus Moriarity Dead at Age of Ninety-two— Active Till Recently.

London, Sept. 13.—The death is reported of Capt. Henry Augustus Moriarity, one of the principals of the laying of the first Atlantic cable. The captain was born in 1815 and entered the navy in early youth. He was prominent in the Syrian naval operations of 1840 and was master of a ship during the Russian war. But it was work as master of cable-laying ships which obtained most recognition for Capt. Moriarity. He commanded H. M. S. Agamemnon, which, with the U. S. frigate Niagara, laid the Atlantic cable in 1857, and sailed it in mid-ocean. It was a tremendous task for a little vessel. Only a few messages were transmitted when the cable failed from business. Though in his 92nd year Capt. Moriarity was quite active until a few days before his death.

Never before in the history of the sport have the championships excited so much interest as this year. This is due chiefly to the large number and prominence of the contestants. The entries come from New York, Chicago, Denver and other points. The feature of the meet will be the strenuous competition between Daniels of New York, Handy of Chicago and Mark Schwartz of St. Louis. Today's program included the following events: 400-yard championship; 220-yard championship breast stroke; plunge for distance championship; 50-yard junior, 200-yard intermediate, water polo. The contest for the water polo championship is attracting much attention. There are five teams entered, two from the Chicago A. A. and one each from the Missouri A. C. and St. Louis Central Y. M. C. A. The championship will, however, resolve itself into a contest between the New York A. C. and the Chicago A. A. The Chicago A. A. team holds the championship, having defeated the New York A. C. team holders of the title, in the indoor championships at New York last February.

IS GOVERNMENT PARTY TO TRUST?

IN COMBINE WITH WHITE GOODS MANUFACTURERS?

MOSQUITO IS RESPONSIBLE

You See a Department Says the Little Bore Dislike All Colors at Once.

(By William Wolff Smith.)
Washington, D. C., September 12.—(Special Correspondence).—Has the government gone into a combine with the manufacturers of white goods, and the makers of white clothing? Is a question that is, or ought to be, agitating the minds of our American citizens. As citizens, and according to the regular fourth of July dictum, consequently foreigners, we have a right to inquire into the attitude of the government on subjects in which it interests itself, hence the pertinacity of this question in regard to the supposed combine. A few years ago the medical part of our gallant and victorious army insisted that one-half, if not three-fourths, of the sickness in the camps was brought about by migratory flies that went about, biting the unwary and inoculating them with germs of some dread disease. A little later the physicians of the South aided and abetted by the M. C. fine hospital authorities declared war against the gay and festive mosquito, charging that "thiefly little insect with spreading yellow fever from one section to another." Many methods were proposed to do away with the mosquito, and some suggestions were made looking toward the destruction of the naughty house fly, but like the poor, the mosquito and the fly still abide with us, taking their toll and paying for it in bacteria.

Now comes the grave and dignified, and very useful Department of Commerce and Labor, and informs, anxious and probably credulous public that mosquitoes are very particular in their choice of colors; that, in fact, they are excessively partial to Jim Crow.

The department has pushed its research back to the first half of the nineteenth century, and we are told that one Spence, in 1847, found that a loose fabric of white threads kept mosquitoes away much more effectively than one of black threads. It is possible that American mosquitoes are color blind, for the experience in this country is that they do most of their prowling around in the night time, and sing their soothing melodies when we try to sleep, and it is well known that all genuine Americans, men and women, fairly dote on the whitest of robes de nuit, and no one, especially when sojourning on the Jersey coast, has ever yet found a mosquito that did not bite as often and as hard when one is dressed in the snowy-white of the night time, as it would if he sleeper wore clothed in somber black.

So the theory of Spence must not be taken as governing the American mosquito.

But, then, Spence, whoever he may be, is not the only authority relied upon by our quidde Department of Commerce and Labor; but one, Joly, is trotted out to let us know that in far off Madagascar that watchful enemy of the mosquito found that the insect preferred black soil to the white sand. Any intelligent American farmer will do the same. But Joly goes on to tell us that they also prefer black shoes to white, black dogs to white ones and like negroes better than Europeans.

It appears that England furnished two close observers of the habits, the likes and dislikes of the mosquito—Nuttall and Shipley, and after a long and profound study they found that the "Anopheles maculipennis" (no wonder a mosquito bite hurts) preferred colors in the following order: dark blue, dark red, brown red, black, gray, olive gray, violet green, light gray, pearl gray, azure blue, ochre color, white, yellow.

What unstinted praise we should give the patience, the talent, the careful watching of Nuttall and Shipley necessary to enable them to reach so definite a conclusion as to the "preferences" of the Anopheles, and deserves to rank with the cotton gin and the telephone, and the names of Nuttall and Shipley should be embalmed along with that of Columbus and Vesputius. All Americans should reverently take off their hats and bow to the ground when they call blessings on the Department of Commerce and Labor for giving to them this valuable and pleasing intelligence, and thus adding to their store of knowledge.

The Department of Commerce and Labor, as a finality, and to clinch the

Why Adulterated
Paint is Dear

A maker of adulterated white lead sneered "Why should paint be pure? No one eats it."

True, but when white lead is adulterated with barytes, sublimed lead, gypsum, whiting, etc., it loses the qualities which make pure white lead the best paint pigment.

And when these imitations are sold as white lead, the consumer is deceived into paying white lead prices for worthless substitutes.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, September 12, 1866.—He Asked for the Time and Came Near Getting a Drubbing.—Last evening, as Major Randall was nearing his father's house with a horse and carriage, he found he had dropped his cloak on the prairie, a short distance from the gate. Leaving the carriage he stepped back to find the missing article, when there suddenly rose up before him a man who demanded to know what time it was. The Major at once, very naturally and probably correctly supposed that the chap, not only wanted the time but the article which he told it, and he at once made for him, expressing the emphatic intent of giving him what he had not asked for—a thrashing. The fellow at once took to his heels, and used them most thoroughly and successfully. It is a pity that the Major had not sent after him something that travels faster than the rascal's feet.

WISCONSIN CROP IS BETTER THAN EVER

Average Yield of Corn in the State at September 1 Was Ninety-five Per Cent.

Wisconsin farmers this year have four per cent higher averages on their corn crop than in the past thirteen years. Corn in the fields about Janesville is in excellent condition. There are over a million acres of this product now waiting to be harvested and in the government report up to September 1 the following is the statement made. The statement maintained the earlier predictions of "bumper" yields of wheat and corn and was about as had been expected on oats, the outcome of which is conceded on all sides to be materially under that of last year. The government's figures were what conservative members of the board of trade had looked for, being bushels on corn, a go-between on spring wheat, and bushels on oats.

The condition of the corn crop attracted most attention in board of trade circles. In view of the phenomenally favorable weather since the report was compiled, traders were inclined to give the statement more of a bearish color than the figures, which were bearish in themselves, indicated. The condition of corn on Sept. 1 was 90.2 compared to 88.1 Aug. 1, 89.5 Sept. 1, 1905; 84.6 Sept. 1, 1904; and a ten-year average of 81.

According to the most popularly accepted basis, the statement promised a total corn output of about 2,713,000,000 bushels, compared to a yield of approximately 2,700,000,000 bushels in 1905.

Wisconsin's report showed the present average was 95 per cent. In 1905 it was 91, in 1904 it was 78, and the average for the past ten years previous was only 87, making the 1906 crop the best thus far on record.

The County Fair has been, for the weather, a highly creditable county fair, and is decidedly flattering. At 11 o'clock there had been three hundred entries, and they are still being made rapidly. Today will be devoted to the interest of receiving entries, with possibly a few trials of speed between colts and untrained horses. Should it be pleasant tomorrow we shall look for a large attendance.

Personal.—We were pleased to receive a call today from Lieut. C. H. Jones of New Orleans. He reports matters in that city quiet, and while he states that the Union men are safe in that city provided they do not meddle with politics, gives it as his opinion that no votes could be cast for a republican ticket unless the polls were protected by the bayonet. Comment on such a condition of reconstruction is unnecessary.

Year Greater.

Under the spreading chestnut tree The village smithy stands; The smith, a mighty man is he, With large and sinewy hands.

Janesville blacksmiths do not know whether it is the absence of the spreading chestnut tree or the increase of automobiles that has caused the dearth of men to hammer the shoe and work at the anvil each year greater. The village smithy stands; The smith, a mighty man is he, With large and sinewy hands.

Business Has Stood Autos Another matter to come before the convention will be the outlining of legislation to create a state board of examiners for prospective "horse-shoers." The association wants only men who know the trade to be engaged in it. "The scarcity of horseshoers is becoming a serious problem," writes L. D. Doolan, corresponding secretary. "It is almost impossible to get them. Young men are not learning the trade, possibly because the work is too hard. There is good money in the horseshoeing business and men in that trade get wages as good as those of the best mechanics—$3 to $4 a day. A steady increase in the number of automobiles in use has not caused the slightest decrease in the number of horses to be shod, for horses are used as much now, if not more, than they ever were. There is an increasing demand for horseshoers and business never was better than it now is."

Bad Work Makes Bad Horses There now are men engaged in the horseshoeing business in the state, who members of the association say do not know their trade. A board of examiners is wanted to keep these unskilled men out of the business, for their crude work has resulted in the spoiling of many good horses. Many states have a board of examiners for horseshoers.

"DEVIL'S AUCTION"
IS MUCH IMPROVED

Spectacle Presented at Myers Theatre Last Evening Pleased Fair-Sized Audience.

Last evening the "Devil's Auction" pleased a good-sized audience at the Myers theatre. The spectacle has been completely changed and for the most part improved since its last appearance here and the ingenious new scenic effects and costumes as well as such interpolated features as "The Wild and Woolly West" and the wire acrobatic work of the Theresistas add materially to its entertaining qualities. The trick pantomime scene between Toby and Chaos in the Magic Picture gallery is an elaborate bit of horseplay, filled with comic supplement surprises, and calculated to hold the closest attention of the spectator. George M. Topack, both as donkey and mortal, proves himself an excellent comedian, and "Flora" Browning as "Janet, the milkmaid," scores a hit in her song and dance specialties. Steve Leardo is also an excellent imp of darkness. The other members of the cast are fairly good in their respective parts.

NO MORE FRANKS ON THE EXPRESS LINES

Interstate Commerce Law Is Responsible for the Taking Away of This Privilege.

Janesville patrons of the express companies who have been enjoying franking privileges, that is, having packages sent free, will hereafter be compelled to pay the same as others. This condition has been brought about by the new interstate commerce act which went into effect last week. All the companies have taken the same action. The following order, similar to that sent out by other companies, has been sent out by the United States Express company:

Revoking all former orders in conflict herewith you are hereby notified that under the provisions of the interstate commerce act, taking effect August 28, 1906, you are strictly forbidden to issue any "pastor" frank or to recognize any form of "pastor" frank, for transportation over the lines of United States Express company, except those which are issued to officers and employees of the United States Express company, or to officers and employees of other express companies, to officers and employees of railroads occupied by United States express company, or officers and employees of other railroad companies in exchange for similar transportation by them to the officers, agents and employees of this company.

On and after August 28, persons other than those above named presenting packages for free transportation or bearing any form of frank heretofore issued by this company must be politely informed that under the provisions of the interstate commerce act this company is forbidden to furnish free transportation, and can only carry the property at regular rates.

Transportation for strictly charitable purposes is permitted under the law to be performed at a reduced rate, and, therefore, the existing regulations of this company, that such transportation may be performed at the discount from the regular rate, stated in paragraph 20, joint circular No. 100, November 1, 1905, may be continued.

The provision of the classification, that free transportation may be granted to certain exhibits at fairs when certain rates are paid on the outward bound shipment, may also be permitted, and nothing herein contained is to be construed to interfere with the provisions of the classification relative to the returns of empties.—C. H. Crosby, Vice President and General Manager.

IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY. A Clinical Preparation That Positively Kills the Dandruff Germ.

A most important discovery has been made after a year's patient laboratory work aimed in a certain direction—it is Newbro's Herpicide, a preparation that prevents falling hair, and speedily and permanently eradicates dandruff. These evils are caused by a germ or parasite that burrows into the scalp, throwing up dandruff, as it seeks to sap the life of the hair at the root. There's no baldness without falling or thin hair, no dandruff if the germ is destroyed. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that will do the work. "Destroy the cause, you will remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Before The Footlights.

"The Greater Love" the four-act drama that comes to Myers Grand Saturday evening, Sept. 15, besides being an absorbing play filled with unusually interesting situations and beautiful dialogue is also of a character that brings joy to those who are in sympathy with the better form of music. As the principal character of the play is Mozart, the great composer, the author has so written her play as to permit of interpolations in the shape of selections from the works of this great musical genius. For this purpose the company carry a instrumentalists, members of the Metropolitan opera-house, New York, orchestra, who between the acts and during the performance render selection receives numerous encores.

There is a comedy sketch entitled "The New Doctor" with many comical situations which has scored hits at other theatres. Waldmore Brown presents himself as a clever blackface comedian in the monologue entitled "A Queer World," which is said to be very funny. His cracking of puns is done with that hint of smartness which belongs to suggestion of conscious cuteness. Miss Evelyn Garner, a soubrette, is a young talented woman that excels in singing and dancing. Her personal charm and freedom from affection have won her the public's favor. High class illustrated songs, with beautiful views and posings, rendered

TRACK COMES UP ON RIVER STREET

FIRE DEPARTMENT TEARS THE RAILS AND TIES OUT.

MAYOR SUPERINTENDS JOB

Guard Will Be Stationed There Tonight to Prevent Its Being Relaid Again.

Another phase of the fight against the rails of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul switch-track on River street took form this afternoon, when under the order of the Mayor, the fire department, under the command of Chief Klein, tore up the rails recently laid in front of the engine house, dug the ties out and filled up the holes. Tonight a policeman will stand guard to see that the St. Paul company does not lay them again.

As per order of the council at their last meeting the St. Paul company took up their rails for the strip objected to, some sixty feet, last week. Then, according to an agreement, which was entered into by the aldermen from the first ward, the city engineer and Chief Klein, they were related upon specific promises of what they were to be used for. Pressure was brought to bear on the council by property-owners who feared their property would be endangered in case of a bad fire by the existence of the tracks and this afternoon the Mayor ordered out the fire department to tear the rails up again.

Block the Tracks.
In order to prevent the railroad from backing a car down on the sixty feet of contested track, the hook and ladder truck was pulled across the tracks above the end of the rails and left there. A dozen men then proceeded to tear up the rails and ties in "gallery" of several hundred people watched them, including members of the council, property-owners interested in the move and railway officials.

SHERIFF HAD HOT TWO-MILE CHASE FOR HORSE THIEF

Peter Mark, Age Nineteen, Edw. Himsel, to 10-year-old Bay at Edward Besker's Barn Last Night.

After a two mile chase through the fields adjoining the Emerald Grove road, Sheriff Cochran this morning captured Peter C. Mark, a young man about nineteen years of age, who is accused of stealing a ten-year-old bay horse from the premises of Edward Besker; two and a half miles north-east of Clinton, last evening, and secreting the same on Charles Heckel's place about six miles distant. Mark does not deny the crime and is unable to explain why he committed it, save to say that he saw the horse and wanted it, and that he used to work for Besker, and the latter had called him evil names since he left his employment. He says that he led the nag with a rope all the way. When the loss was discovered, a sheriff's message was sent to the sheriff and the tracks were followed far enough to indicate in what direction the stolen property had traveled. Besker had his hands on Mark this morning but the youth broke away from him. The sheriff caught sight of him while driving along the road and immediately abandoned his rig for a hot chase across country.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Thomas Young.
Last Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 the remains of Mrs. Thomas Young, widow of Thomas Young, were laid to rest in the Cooksville cemetery, funeral services being conducted by Rev. L. A. Farr. Deceased had been in failing health for many years, having suffered several strokes of paralysis. Although helpless as a child, Mrs. Young was always cheerful, never complaining of the hard lot she had to bear. She was one of God's noble women who spent her days in bestowing, uncalculatedly, rich blessings upon all about her, and left the world better by having lived in it. Mrs. Thomas Young was born in the town of Porter, Rock county, Dec. 29, 1852, her maiden name being Celia White. She was married to Thomas Young July 15, 1869, and to them seven children were born, of which two have gone to their reward. The five survivors are: Thomas, Frank, William, Cora and Anna. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Brock of Lake City, Minn., who attended the funeral, and Mrs. David Heggie of Corral, Minn., who have the sympathy of the entire community.

Henry Hobart Ruger.
Henry Hobart Ruger, M. D., of Devils Lake, North Dakota, died at his home last night, his death resulting from a recent stroke of paralysis. He was a son of the late Rev. Thomas J. Ruger and a brother of Mrs. C. M. R. Pease, General Thomas H. Ruger, Edward Ruger, William Ruger and Miss August Ruger, and of the late Mrs. Dunbar, wife of Chaplain George W. Dunbar, U. S. A., retired. Dr. Ruger grew to manhood in this city and served during the war and some time afterward, as assistant surgeon. For many years he has resided at Devils Lake, North Dakota, where he practiced his profession. He leaves a wife, one son, and two daughters, all of whom reside at Devils Lake.

Katherine Frances Dietz.
The remains of the late Katherine Frances Dietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Dietz of 5 Linn street, were shipped to Monroe this morning at 10:40 o'clock and after funeral services at one o'clock this afternoon interment was made in the cemetery there.

John H. Roberts.
The funeral of the late John H. Roberts was held at two o'clock yesterday afternoon from the home of the deceased's sister, Mrs. Sarah Jackson on South Franklin street. Rev. R. C. Dennison was the officiating clergyman and the pall bearers were Mr. Stenhouse of Chicago, George J. Davis, Herbert Allen and Joseph A. Csell.

Irene Barton.
Word has been received of the death of little Irene Barton, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barton, formerly of Janesville, now making their home in Big Rock, Ill. The little girl was a favorite with all who knew her and her parents have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

Nicholas Walsh.
Nicholas Walsh, an old resident of Janesville, died at seven o'clock this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Walsh in Merrimack Port, Mass. He went there last June to visit and the remains will be brought back to Janesville for interment. It is expected that they will arrive Saturday night but notice of the funeral will not be given by two daughters, Mrs. P. E. Nelson of this city and Sister Constance of the Convent of Mercy at Whitewater.

JANESVILLE PEOPLE HAVE EXHIBITIONS

State Fair Exhibits of Janesville Horses Interests Breeders in State.

The exhibit of light harness horses at the state fair is also considered by experts to be the equal if not the superior of any held in the country. Among the prominent exhibitors in the horse department this year are: Secretary of State Walter L. Houser of Mendota, who also has large exhibits in the other stock departments; A. R. Joys of Delavan, whose exhibit of Percheron and coach horses is fine; Alexander Galbraith & Son of Janesville, whose exhibit is largely of Clydesdales; Lew W. Cochran of Crawfordville, Ind., with Percherons, and Shires, and hackneys; Adam Seitz of Waukesha, who exhibited in several classes and whose Shetland ponies attracted much attention; McLeay brothers of Janesville, whose Clydesdales have won many prizes at the Chicago International fair, the World's fair and other competitions, and Uihlen brothers, who show fifteen head of standard bred horses, the exhibit headed by Astronomer, 2:13 1/4.

H. C. DREYER WILL VISIT THE KAISER; SANG AT MARRIAGE

Will Be Guest of Mother and of Wife's Parents—Son Richard to Accompany Him—Has New Horseshoe to Introduce.

H. C. Dreyer and son Richard will visit Germany this fall, sailing from New York City, the latter part of October. The business cares will permit Mr. Dreyer to leave he will take the ship Frederick der Grosse of the North German Lloyd line on the 15th; otherwise, the Breslau on the 25th. Landing at Bremen they will go directly to Berlin, where Mr. Dreyer's mother lives. While there he expects to gain an audience with the Kaiser. Mr. Dreyer met the German Emperor as a bride at the time of his marriage. The Janesville man was then working as a stone-cutter and carver in Potsdam, thirty miles from Berlin, and was a member of the Liederkreis. This society is similar to the Concordia and Scaener Gesellschafts of America, and three hundred strong sang after the wedding at the Royal Palace in Potsdam. Wilhelm shook hands with each member of the society, thanking them for the tribute. Mr. Dreyer has also done marble stair work in the royal palace.

Among other places Mr. Dreyer and son will visit will be Breslau, Dresden, Strasburg, Nord Hausen, and possibly Warsaw in Russia and Poland. At Nord Hausen he will be the guest of his wife's relatives. This place is in the Harz Mountains, famed the world over for the canary birds which are produced there. Mr. Dreyer, having learned the stone-cutting trade in Germany, has placed monuments in cemeteries of many of the places he will visit.

Mr. Dreyer will take with him a few samples of a newly patented horseshoe. The feature of the article is that in the rough it has both front and rear calks and the toe grip, all absent on the common horseshoe. This is made with machinery perfected by his brother-in-law, Mr. Decker of Chicago. Mr. Dreyer expects to show the shoe to the Kaiser and has hopes of it being adopted for use in the German army. Should he be successful in this he will proceed to Vienna and Paris and seek to have the shoe purchased by the Austrian and French governments. These shoes are to be made at Grand Rapids, Mich., which city has offered the inventor of the machinery by which it is made a bonus and factory site. The promoters sought to have the factory located in Janesville, but could make no terms with the local businessmen.

ACTION INVOLVING A DOG AND TURKEY

Case of William E. Dulin vs. Fred H. Inman Tried in Justice Reeder's Court This Morning.

Testimony was taken before Judge Reeder this morning in the action of William E. Dulin vs. Fred H. Inman, brought by the plaintiff to recover $20 for a spaniel dog which the defendant is alleged to have shot and killed. The defendant resides in the town of Rock on the river road between this city and Afton. The plaintiff alleges that the dog was in company with his boy and some youngsters who were swimming in a creek near Inman's property and that the said Inman came down to the bank with a gun, commanded the boys to call the dog, and when the poor creature appeared on the scene deliberately shot it down. Mr. Inman contends that the spaniel, as well as the boys, was trespassing on his land and that the dog pursued and bit a valuable hen-turkey and a young one belonging to him, and that the young turkey died of its injuries and that the older one has disappeared and hence has undoubtedly succumbed. Attorney Jesse Earle for the plaintiff laid stress on the fact that there was no direct evidence that the hen-turkey was in reality dead and the sentimental as well as intrinsic value of the dog to its owner. Attorney E. H. Ryan for the defense tried to establish the fact that the deceased canine was a depraved, chicken-chasing, egg-sucking animal and entitled to no consideration. The concluding arguments will be made Monday afternoon.

NAPOLEON SIMARD IS TO SPEND FOUR MONTHS IN JAIL

Former Head Salesman for T. P. Burns Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Stealing Silk Today.

In municipal court this afternoon the former complaint against Napoleon Simard, former head salesman at the T. P. Burns store, was withdrawn and a new one charging him with the larceny of 17 yards of red silk on the 7th day of August, substituted. The value of the goods, being under $25 the heaviest punishment possible was six months in the county jail.

Attorney John Cunningham, representing the defendant, made a plea for clemency, stating that drink was the cause of his undoing and that he was industrious when sober and had never had any such trouble before. He also begged that the court would be merciful on account of the wife, an exceptionally fine woman, who would be left without support during Simard's incarceration. District Attorney Fisher, while expressing regret that the wife should have to suffer, stating that the court not to be too lenient, stating that the city marshal had evidence that Simard had strayed from the path of honesty not once but on several occasions; that he was not a young and inexperienced man but a person in middle age who had been holding a responsible position; that his punishment should be such as to serve as an example for others who might be disposed to become careless in handling the property of their employers. Judge Fifield said that any other possible offenses of the prisoner could not be taken into consideration without evidence but agreed with the district attorney on other points. He sentenced Simard to spend four months in the county jail, with the proviso that by the payment of a $100 fine and costs at the end of two months he may be released.
